

My other arm likes to play all day,
It'll find a nice spot to settle and stay.
It wants to be around toys and fun,
It will play there and never be done.

My other leg is a silly one
It'll go somewhere 'cause he thinks it's fun
It'll hide in a place that heats things up
It has buttons, a clock, and can hold a cup.

One of my hands likes to click on keys
My fingers can move even faster than bees.
Above the keys is a screen that has such fame
On it you can see the internet, movies, and even a game.

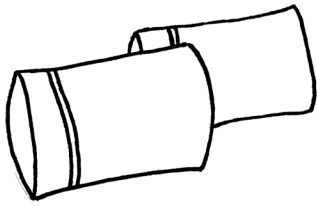

My other hand likes to grab lots of food.
It's always in the eating mood.
My hand likes food that is not warm, but cold
Not quite freezing, but it thinks chilly food is bold.

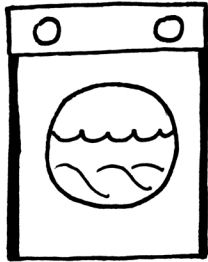

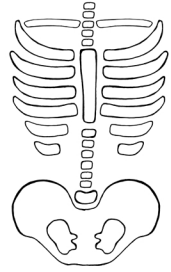

My foot gets dirty and tries to get clean,
It likes my bones to have a nice sheen.
My foot needs a big tub and lots of soap,
Then it will sit in the water and just hope.

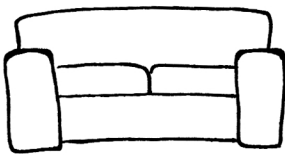

My name is Ted
and I'm just a skeleton head.
It seems the rest of my pieces have been lost
Please help me find all of them before they get tossed.
If you put me together, I'll give you a prize
Now search for them with your keen eyes.

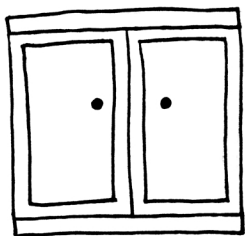

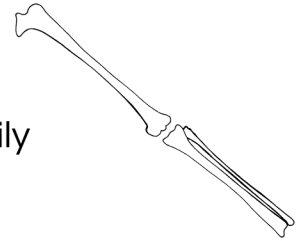

My body is always trying to take a rest,
It thinks laying down is the absolute best.
Under a pillow is the best spot around,
But your pillow is the absolute greatest found.

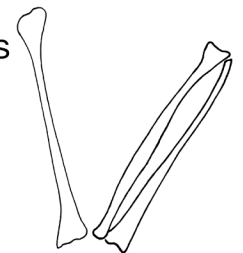

My other foot likes to be to be clean, too.
But it sits someplace else it's true.
It likes to go in circles along with some clothes,
As it's twirling around, it will often doze.

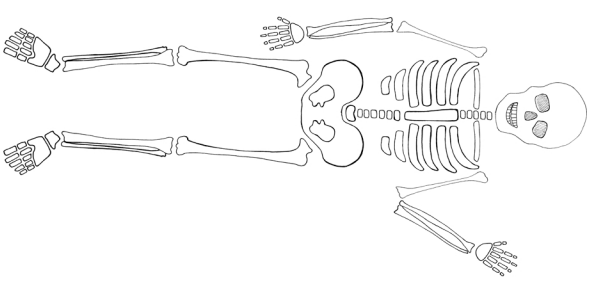

My leg is as lazy as a leg can get
It will stay in one place and never fret.
It likes a place that's comfy and by family
It likes sit still and be able to watch T.V.

My arm likes dark places, but must have snacks
If it doesn't have food, it gets panic attacks.
My arm will be behind a door that's sure,
It will be next to food that's room temperature.
